

A warm, intermittent, creek flowing through sandstone with a relatively low gradient and flowing into another creek

A cold, perennial, small river flowing through dolomite/limestone with relatively low gradient and flowing into another small river

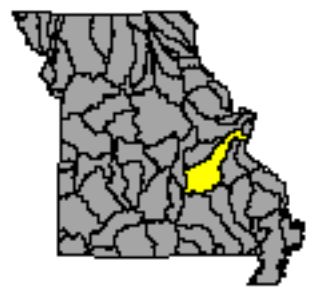

Note: For display purposes no headwater valley segment types are displayed on this map.

A warm, perennial, large river flowing through sandstone with a relatively high gradient

A warm, perennial, creek flowing through dolomite/limestone with a relatively medium gradient and flowing into a large river

Note: For display purposes no headwater valley segment types are displayed on this map.